Key Insights

X365.Ai

OpenAI has secured substantial funding over nearly a decade, achieving a valuation of $157 billion by October 2024.

xAI, founded by Elon Musk in 2023, rapidly amassed approximately $12.1 billion in funding, reaching a $50 billion valuation within 16 months.

X365.Ai aims to raise $750 million, a significant capital injection that underscores its potential to emerge as a formidable competitor in the AI sector.

Assuming each participant receives 4750 tokens, the total airdrop distribution will be:

Thus, if the airdrop is scaled for a 100 million-user community, the total number of tokens required would be approximately 47.5 Billion Tokens.

X365.Ai's ambitious plan to raise $750 million positions it alongside industry leaders like OpenAI and xAI, signaling its potential as a major player in the AI landscape. Here's a comparative overview:

Company	Total Funding Raised	Latest Valuation	Time to Reach Valuation	Total User
OpenAI	Approximately $17.9 billion	$157 billion as of October 2024	~9 years (Founded in 2015)	400 Million
xAI	Approximately $12.1 billion	$50 billion as of November 2024	~1.5 years (Founded in 2023)	314 Million
X365.Ai	Targeting $750 million	To Be Determined	Emerging Entrant target by 2026	100 Million

The strategic funding initiative by X365.Ai reflects its commitment to innovation and positions it to potentially become a leading entity in the AI industry, akin to the trajectories of OpenAI and xAI and target to empower all the community members around the world.
